

LUCIA GONZALEZ, NRCS
NATURAL RESOURCE CONSERVATIONIST

Lucia obtained her Bachelor of Agricultural Sciences in Animal Science and a Pre-Veterinary Certification from the University of Puerto Rico at Mayaguez. Was a licensed Agronomist and certified ARPAS member in Puerto Rico. Additionally, she received a Dairy Cattle Artificial Insemination Certification from the Soller Agronomical Vocational School in Camuy, PR.

Lucia began her career as a free-range dairy farm manager. Later she moved to Southern Maryland where she worked as a Bird Feeding Specialist and small business manager for several years. Now, she is excited to return to her agricultural and serve the Cecil County Community.

In her free time, she enjoys reading, bird watching, and hiking with her husband Edgardo, and her two daughters Suki and Ellie.